

Are We a Match?

If you answer YES to most of the following questions, you and Oak City Cohousing might be a good fit:

Do you like the idea of getting to know your neighbors as friends and lending them a hand when they could use some help?

Are you willing to forego a garage attached to your house-walking instead from a central parking area in order to have a pedestrian-friendly neighborhood?

Would you enjoy participating in periodic community workdays to keep our common areas tidy and well maintained?

Are you comfortable with houses clustered together, in order to protect more community open space?

Do you want to be part of a community interested in reducing its environmental impact?

Do you like the idea of [optional] community dinners a couple of times per week?

Do you like a quiet day at home followed by a spontaneous BBQ, dessert, or movie with neighbors?

Do you like gardening side by side with your neighbors and sharing the bounty at a community or home cooked meal?

Do you like nourishing body and soul with good food, good health, and good company?

Is being a part of a close-knit community interested in service and social justice one that interest you?

Do you like living mindfully in community, encouraging wisdom, compassion and interpersonal growth?

Would you like to share inviting outdoor spaces such as gardens, courtyards, decks, patios and views?
